COMFREY

ARNICA

SWEET ALMOND OIL

Throughout the centuries, many herbalists have written about this great herb's many medicinal qualities. The nature of comfrey is its fast healing action, soothing; relieves inflammation promotes granulation and formation of epithelial cells which are responsible for mending and healing the body. It is a great cell proliferant, or new cell grower; it grows new flesh and bone alike and heals the inflamed tissues.

Used in herbal ointments and oils applied on the skin as an anti-inflammatory and pain-relieving agent for aches, bruises, and sprains on unbroken skin. Widely used for the treatment of injuries. Arnica has been used on the skin for osteoarthritis pain and stiffness, due to its anti-inflammatory constituents.

Almond oil has been used extensively for its benefits and as a beauty aid much before science caught up with the goodness of this seed oil. The nutty oil extracted is credited to promoting skin health. Almond oil is mild hypoallergenic oil that can be safely used even on baby skin.
